

at Antietam, Gen. Lee, consulted by Gen. Miles, propriety of putting the corps of regulars at the rear, replied, "Whenever the last reserve of the Union Sheridan received such a check, very likely have said rather for following the enemy than to covering it. The losses on the Union were, and given by different sources, were as follows:

	Union	Confederate
Cavalry Corps	523	267
2nd	1,424	1,424
Northwest	31	128
Infantry	262	250
Total	2,240	1,069

The loss of the 10th corps, given division, was as follows:

	Killed	Wounded	Missing	Total
	1,000	1,000	1,000	3,000

one third of all engaged. I am satisfied that the losses of the 12th Maine in this battle were greater in proportion to the number engaged, than any other regiment. Others were equally engaged, equally brave and as far advanced as our regiment was on the extreme right of the line it suffered more severely from the deadly fire of Draxton's seven pieces of artillery.

The effects of this battle on the Rebels was very demoralizing. The cavalry were driven back in a perfect rout. Gordon and Rhoades were in no condition to offer resistance or to cover a retreat in decent order. Hanscom, who was to have been completely crushed and annihilated in the morning, and who had lain in front of the 5th corps all day, covered the retreat in good order, and was alone in condition to offer successful resistance to the immediate advance of our cavalry.

The cheering effect of this battle upon Sheridan and his army cannot be overestimated. It has been said that the seven days before the battle: "The troops here are in fine spirits; some of them, however, have not seen very hard fighting, and some of them are not so fitly armed. I have not been so long as I should have liked, but I have had the reliability of my after him and standing on the 24th was doubtful, remedy of the fighting of the 31st inst.

But it was upon the people of North that the effect was most marked. The summer campaign of the armies had not been all that the of the North hoped for. Early, a young Banks had been defeated and driven. Grant had been of since May, and by the loss of 40,000 men, had succeeded in pointing him up the fortified lines, from which pushed up in position he was enabled to send Early north with 30,000 men, who had been set to within sight of the dome of the Capitol. Sherman had captured Atlanta, but many feared he had stuck his self out there like a sore thumb, to be starved out or cut off in detail.

The Baltimore & Ohio railway and the Chesapeake canal were in the hands of the enemy, traffic to the coast by that route cut off, and the managers of these routes demanded that they be opened. In this state of affairs, McClellan was nominated on "the war is a failure" platform, and as the troops in the field were, by such conjunctural legislation, taken of Indiana, under the leadership of men of the Vowles stamp, denied the right of voting, it was feared McClellan would be elected.

All was now changed. The copperheads were much depressed, while the Union element was correspondingly exalted. The President telegraphed as follows: "Have just heard of your great victory. God bless you all—soldiers and men. Strongly inclined to come up and see you."

Grant ordered each of his two Richmond armies to fire one hundred guns, and sent the following:

"I congratulate you and the army service under you for the great victory."

just achieved. It has been most opportune in point of time and effect. It will open access to the Government and to the public the very important line of road from Baltimore to the Ohio, and also the Chesapeake canal. Better still for it wipes out much of the strain upon our first arms by previous disaster in that loc Tins. I say your good work continue, we oblige the prayer of loyal men."

At dark our army bronchoned above of Winchester, while the Rebels retreat, destitute twenty miles up the valley to Fisher's Gap, where we again met and defeated them on the 22d.

Maine was represented in the battle of Winchester by five regiments. The 1st Maine Veterans in Getty's division of the 6th corps. The 15th and 20th in Dwight's division of the 10th corps, and the 23d and 24th in Birge's brigade of Grover's division of the 10th corps.

I have now written all I have to say at present of the battle of Winchester. It has been completed at odd hours

During the last month, and with a view of recalling events proper to be thought of in the vision of soldiers. If the narration, any statement has been made which reflects on any other command, it must be borne in mind that it is not, said in malice or to detract from their bravery or efficiency, but because the truth demands it. I have not confined myself simply to personal recollection, but have drawn from the reports of officers of both sides.

The 22nd Maine, being so far from home during the larger part of its term of service, was as little known and received as little attention from its native state as any regiment ever sent out by it. It is but proper and just that its history should be written and preserved in some permanent form. If it is ever faithfully done, it will be seen that the people of Maine have as just cause to feel proud of its record as of any that served during the rebellion of the Dirigo State.

The illustration tells us that your reunion is to be held on the 21st of September. Do you remember where we were on that day twenty-two years ago? On the 20th we had moved up to Strasburg and encamped for the night on the left of the pike, in a dense thicket of pines and cedars, where we slept the sleep of the just, after two days and two nights of marching and fighting. About noon of the 21st we moved to the right side of the pike, north of Tumbling Run, where tents were pitched; soon we moved further to the right, where we remained for the night.

Major Hastings had charge of the brigade pickets that day. The Major was a great admirer and excellent judge of the three things—a horse, a woman and a dinner; and these three things were admired in about the order above named. While on picket he had eaten a dinner cooked by a woman—whether white or black, I cannot say—and on his return to camp, thinking of his comrades, which was another of his traits, he brought in a big basket of as fine grapes as were ever eaten. The quartermaster and adjutants did ample justice to them. And now comrades, being present with you in thought if not in person, I wish you a happy reunion.

I suffered from rheumatism the most excruciating pain for three months, lost flesh and appetite, and was almost helpless. One bottle of Athlophoros relieved me, and though I am weak I am gaining strength. — Wm. F. Brown, Vicksburg, Miss.

E. F. Smith, esq., is to open a law office in the new Grand Building. Working hours 9 o'clock at Webb & Wakefield's.

C. B. Cummings wants some four hundred cords of birch timber. See ad.

Mr. Merrill brings in the traveling bag advertised to be lost in last week's paper. Nothing like advertising in the paper. Send in the name.

There is one relic of the late Farmington in town. It is the brass work of a clock in a building demolished condition. It was brought home by V. S. Abbott on his recent visit to Farmington.

The Greene Bros. have an action against us for saying that Mr. Greene senior had sold out his interest in the grocery business. It proves not to be so. He proposes to continue in business and keep the nearest store in town.

Chas. Colby has torn his chimney down and is preparing to build new. Alonzo Brown has bought a horse for three dollars each. They are very prettily shown and are in the window.

C. T. Hayes and family have moved to Groveton. N. H. Mr. Hayes has been here for three years. He was much liked by all who knew him and had business with him. He was away to have him leave town. "Hayes" was one of the best teamsters in Oxford County.

John M. Cummings is to make an addition of twenty feet to his stable at the end of the hall. The work is progressing rapidly and will be completed inside of four weeks. This addition is to be finished for a dwelling house and occupied by Samuel Caldwell and family.

The new sidewalk in front of the Academy lot is completed. An excellent sermon and a large attendance at the Universalist church last Sunday afternoon.

More building projects started. The indications are that Wednesday will boom during the next five years. W. C. Pierce and his sister Abbie L. Pierce are to start for Southern California in about ten days.

Mr. Noble is on his way to California. He writes that he likes the country very well. Geo. A. Cole has his store well under way. It is to be completed in a few weeks.

It is a good time to buy overcoats and heavy winter suits at Webb & Wakefield's cheap for cash. Workers were engaged Sunday in repairing the trestle-work of the railroad bridge.

The ladies' congregationalist church will meet at the center Wednesday afternoon and evening, of next week. Call and see those books at Noyes' Drug and Bookstore, for only five cents.

Regular meeting of Oxford Lodge, No. 8, F. & A. M., Monday evening, Nov. 5th, on the second degree. Mr. A. Morrison moved from Mrs. George's rent on Pleasant street this week. He now rents at Mrs. Lucien Cummings.

There will be a baptism at the Methodist church next Sabbath at 2 o'clock P. M. At the town meeting last Saturday it was voted not to allow the election of the house-hold of the Corporation.

Send this paper from now until Feb. to your absent friends—only 15 cts. pays the bill. Dennis Pike has a word to say relative to his famous "Metza Latooka" elsewhere.

C. B. Cummings has received two more coon skins from his Hanover Reservation. Surely he now thinks he is to have a coon-skin coat.

C. A. Morrill, recently from the Harvard office, has been visiting here. He formerly was an employee in this office. The Norway Farming Co. is sinking an artesian well near the tannery. A hole has already been bored one hundred and twenty-five feet in.

John F. Allen has just returned from Boston and is prepared to show any kind of a foot. He has a fine assortment of goods. The officers of Union A. M., Chapter 38, will be installed by Rev. H. P. Priest, S. R. Knowland, Wednesday evening, Nov. 10th. All Royal Arch Masons are invited to attend.

The ladies' Universalist circle will meet at Concord Hall Tuesday afternoon and evening of next week. Work for the ladies in the afternoon. Supper at 6:30; program in the evening.

Mrs. A. B. Chase and her family are in the city. On her return she will be prepared to show the ladies of Norway and vicinity all the latest novelties in millinery. Ad. next week.

Mr. Wiswall failed of his engagement at Norway Lake last Sunday on account of the weather but will endeavor to be there next Sunday, the 11th inst., at 4:30 o'clock. Please notice the home.

The prospects are excellent for a large run of business at the shoe factory during the winter. A larger amount of stock than usual has been purchased by the firm.

A full local board of the Provident Aid Society of Maine has been organized here during the week by E. F. Frost of Portland. It is said to be one of the best mutual insurance companies ever chartered. Mr. Frost is meeting with excellent success in organizing local boards.

He is now at work at South Paris. Little "June," a three-year-old miss, was very much pleased with Abbott's family group of flying squirrels, and in telling her father about them exclaimed, "They were so awfully funny that I did not know what to do, so I didn't do anything."

E. N. Clement's fresh invoice of California Honey cost one cent and a half more per pound than first lot. It is very nice indeed and will be sold at 17 cts. per lb., 6 lbs. for a dollar. He has about three hundred pounds of old stock left which he will sell at old prices, 15 cts. per lb. and 1 lb. for one dollar.

Frank T. True, of the Falls grocery store, gave us a clear the other day. He is a levitation among narcotics, and measured two and one-half inches in circumference, and was some over eight inches in length. It is called "Imperial Havana," and sells for 10 cents. We have smoked at times for several days on this cigar, and for a good deal of it left now.

Now is the opportunity. We will send the Advertiser from this date to Feb. 1, 1890, for 15 cts. Send the paper to your absent friends and speak to your neighbors about this opportunity to get the Advertiser. Every paper sent on this special price will be promptly stopped on the first of next Feb. unless ordered to continue.

The bear—the one C. B. Cummings claims to have caught, has been sent into winter quarters. Mr. Abbott has taken it up to his farm and is trying to put him to sleep for the winter. Cummings is not to take the bear this winter, as he has previously advertised, as his bear is too sleepy to perform well. It didn't occur to Mr. Cummings that the bear, after being so long in the hands of the advertiser, would be so sleepy.

Ad. next week. A new bridge over a branch of Stony Brook by Surveyor Starbird. Charles Benson is to occupy the Whittemore homestead the coming year.

PARISH BILL.
Lizzie P. Hammond, youngest daughter of H. E. Hammond, was married to F. E. Shor of Gorham, N. H., at the residence of her father, October 27th. The current papers speak very highly of Mr. Shor. Mr. Shor was killed by a Boston N. Maine train at Malden, Mass., last week. Mr. Eldon Hammond is native of the Falls and was many years principal of the Academy here.

Rev. W. C. Crocker of Bristol, Conn., preached in the Baptist church, Sunday. S. C. Andrews, esq., of Portland, formerly of this place, who was appointed a short time ago as a pension examiner by the President, has been summoned to Washington to fill for the time being his office. He is to remain there six months.

The wife of Z. S. Stone, of Lowell, Mass., editor of the Lowell Mail, and formerly of this place, is dead. Charles E. Meserve, late of the Advertiser office and formerly of the Democrat office, has gone to Boston.

PARTNERSHIP DISTRICT.
Edwin Stearns began work in the factory last Monday. Jane Keough returned to Norway last week. Mrs. Ryerson has returned home from Mass.

Miss Abby and wife have been visiting at his father's and sister's the past week. He should have been 82 instead of 92 years. He should have been 82 instead of 92 years. He should have been 82 instead of 92 years.

Chas. Colby has torn his chimney down and is preparing to build new. Alonzo Brown has bought a horse for three dollars each. They are very prettily shown and are in the window.

Mr. Wiswall failed of his engagement at Norway Lake last Sunday on account of the weather but will endeavor to be there next Sunday, the 11th inst., at 4:30 o'clock. Please notice the home.

The prospects are excellent for a large run of business at the shoe factory during the winter. A larger amount of stock than usual has been purchased by the firm.

A full local board of the Provident Aid Society of Maine has been organized here during the week by E. F. Frost of Portland. It is said to be one of the best mutual insurance companies ever chartered. Mr. Frost is meeting with excellent success in organizing local boards.

He is now at work at South Paris. Little "June," a three-year-old miss, was very much pleased with Abbott's family group of flying squirrels, and in telling her father about them exclaimed, "They were so awfully funny that I did not know what to do, so I didn't do anything."

E. N. Clement's fresh invoice of California Honey cost one cent and a half more per pound than first lot. It is very nice indeed and will be sold at 17 cts. per lb., 6 lbs. for a dollar. He has about three hundred pounds of old stock left which he will sell at old prices, 15 cts. per lb. and 1 lb. for one dollar.

Frank T. True, of the Falls grocery store, gave us a clear the other day. He is a levitation among narcotics, and measured two and one-half inches in circumference, and was some over eight inches in length. It is called "Imperial Havana," and sells for 10 cents. We have smoked at times for several days on this cigar, and for a good deal of it left now.

Now is the opportunity. We will send the Advertiser from this date to Feb. 1, 1890, for 15 cts. Send the paper to your absent friends and speak to your neighbors about this opportunity to get the Advertiser. Every paper sent on this special price will be promptly stopped on the first of next Feb. unless ordered to continue.

The bear—the one C. B. Cummings claims to have caught, has been sent into winter quarters. Mr. Abbott has taken it up to his farm and is trying to put him to sleep for the winter. Cummings is not to take the bear this winter, as he has previously advertised, as his bear is too sleepy to perform well. It didn't occur to Mr. Cummings that the bear, after being so long in the hands of the advertiser, would be so sleepy.

Ad. next week. A new bridge over a branch of Stony Brook by Surveyor Starbird. Charles Benson is to occupy the Whittemore homestead the coming year.

PARISH BILL.
Lizzie P. Hammond, youngest daughter of H. E. Hammond, was married to F. E. Shor of Gorham, N. H., at the residence of her father, October 27th. The current papers speak very highly of Mr. Shor. Mr. Shor was killed by a Boston N. Maine train at Malden, Mass., last week. Mr. Eldon Hammond is native of the Falls and was many years principal of the Academy here.

Rev. W. C. Crocker of Bristol, Conn., preached in the Baptist church, Sunday. S. C. Andrews, esq., of Portland, formerly of this place, who was appointed a short time ago as a pension examiner by the President, has been summoned to Washington to fill for the time being his office. He is to remain there six months.

The wife of Z. S. Stone, of Lowell, Mass., editor of the Lowell Mail, and formerly of this place, is dead. Charles E. Meserve, late of the Advertiser office and formerly of the Democrat office, has gone to Boston.

PARTNERSHIP DISTRICT.
Edwin Stearns began work in the factory last Monday. Jane Keough returned to Norway last week. Mrs. Ryerson has returned home from Mass.

Miss Abby and wife have been visiting at his father's and sister's the past week. He should have been 82 instead of 92 years. He should have been 82 instead of 92 years. He should have been 82 instead of 92 years.

Chas. Colby has torn his chimney down and is preparing to build new. Alonzo Brown has bought a horse for three dollars each. They are very prettily shown and are in the window.

C. T. Hayes and family have moved to Groveton. N. H. Mr. Hayes has been here for three years. He was much liked by all who knew him and had business with him. He was away to have him leave town. "Hayes" was one of the best teamsters in Oxford County.

John M. Cummings is to make an addition of twenty feet to his stable at the end of the hall. The work is progressing rapidly and will be completed inside of four weeks. This addition is to be finished for a dwelling house and occupied by Samuel Caldwell and family.

The new sidewalk in front of the Academy lot is completed. An excellent sermon and a large attendance at the Universalist church last Sunday afternoon.

More building projects started. The indications are that Wednesday will boom during the next five years. W. C. Pierce and his sister Abbie L. Pierce are to start for Southern California in about ten days.

Mr. Noble is on his way to California. He writes that he likes the country very well. Geo. A. Cole has his store well under way. It is to be completed in a few weeks.

It is a good time to buy overcoats and heavy winter suits at Webb & Wakefield's cheap for cash. Workers were engaged Sunday in repairing the trestle-work of the railroad bridge.

The ladies' congregationalist church will meet at the center Wednesday afternoon and evening, of next week. Call and see those books at Noyes' Drug and Bookstore, for only five cents.

Regular meeting of Oxford Lodge, No. 8, F. & A. M., Monday evening, Nov. 5th, on the second degree. Mr. A. Morrison moved from Mrs. George's rent on Pleasant street this week. He now rents at Mrs. Lucien Cummings.

There will be a baptism at the Methodist church next Sabbath at 2 o'clock P. M. At the town meeting last Saturday it was voted not to allow the election of the house-hold of the Corporation.

Send this paper from now until Feb. to your absent friends—only 15 cts. pays the bill. Dennis Pike has a word to say relative to his famous "Metza Latooka" elsewhere.

C. B. Cummings has received two more coon skins from his Hanover Reservation. Surely he now thinks he is to have a coon-skin coat.

C. A. Morrill, recently from the Harvard office, has been visiting here. He formerly was an employee in this office. The Norway Farming Co. is sinking an artesian well near the tannery. A hole has already been bored one hundred and twenty-five feet in.

John F. Allen has just returned from Boston and is prepared to show any kind of a foot. He has a fine assortment of goods. The officers of Union A. M., Chapter 38, will be installed by Rev. H. P. Priest, S. R. Knowland, Wednesday evening, Nov. 10th. All Royal Arch Masons are invited to attend.

The ladies' Universalist circle will meet at Concord Hall Tuesday afternoon and evening of next week. Work for the ladies in the afternoon. Supper at 6:30; program in the evening.

Mrs. A. B. Chase and her family are in the city. On her return she will be prepared to show the ladies of Norway and vicinity all the latest novelties in millinery. Ad. next week.
